"Vial" Door Hangers Not from MWRA or Your Local Water Department

Many of our customers have had a door hanger with a small vial left at their door with a request for it to be filled with water to be tested. This request is NOT from your local water department or MWRA. It is from a firm selling home water treatment devices.

If you are interested in information about your water, check out our water quality test results page. Everything you need to know about drinking water quality is right there. We're confident about our water quality, and we think that the data will make you confident as well.

If you still have questions, feel free to contact us or your local water department.
